Dear current or former MA's Fashion Design Management Student,

You are invited to participate in:

This study explores the positive impact of networking on the future employability of the LCF MA Fashion Design Management Students (FDM) as well as their personal adaptation journey to the university. Going from creating a practical guideline of the current available networking options to a possible actionable plan to encourage the usage of them. The focus of the study will be current and past MA FDM students as well as relevant staff members.

Please read this sheet carefully and be confident that you understand its contents before deciding whether to participate.

Why have you been approached?

- As a staff member you can provide meaningful insights about the current available networking options for the MA FDM students, as well as your professional view on the impact of those in the students' future employability and adaptation journey to the LCF.
- As a current or past MA FDM student you will be able to provide insights about the students' awareness regarding all the networking possibilities at the LCF as well as the usage of the same and its impact on your employability.

If I agree to participate, what will I be required to do?

- Staff member: Casual Online Discussion
- Current & past MA FDM students: Microsoft Forms Survey and/or Casual Discussions

What are the possible risks or disadvantages?

There might be a risk of data privacy during the research process. The privacy data will be protected in the OneDrive. All the data from participants are protected and secured and data will be analyzed anonymously. Collected data will be destroyed after usage.

What are the benefits associated with participation?

- Staff member: Further visibility of the current networking tools at the LCF (practical guideline) as well as an actionable and realistic plan for the students to encourage networking.
- Current & past MA FDM students: With the participation of this research, participants are able to reflect in their current approach to networking at the LCF, and to consider the
